

REUNION.

Steel studs grate on blue brick, the broken gate whines. A knock at the door, loud and demanding. Silence. Curtains part and shiver, pale faces press against uncleaned glass. A shout and another loud knock on the weather beaten door. Bolts crash home. The door opens. There he is the soldier. Dad's home.

55 words.

Mike Mitchell.